RESIDENTIAL LETTINGS

PROPERTY INFORMATION QUESTIONNAIRE (PIQ)

ABOUT THIS FORM

To be completed by the landlord

The landlord may be the owner or owners; a representative with the necessary authority to rent the property for an owner who has died; a representative with the necessary authority to rent the property for a living owner (e.g. a Power of Attorney) or be renting in some other capacity. The form should be completed and read as though the questions were being answered by the owner.

If you are the landlord or property agent, you should be aware that this form runs in line with the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008 and as such it must be completed as wholly and accurately as possible. Under the Regulations, both the landlord and property agent must disclose anything, within their knowledge, that would affect the transactional decision of the average consumer. Provide as much information as possible and do not omit information.

The purpose of this form is to help landlords and property agents understand the types of details that should be disclosed if known. However, this form should not be considered exhaustive. Any information not referenced in the PIQ, that you feel would affect the decision of the average consumer, should also be disclosed to potential tenants. If you are found to be in breach of the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008 then you could face both an unlimited fine and/or imprisonment of up to two years.

The information provided within this PIQ should only relate to the period during which you owned the property; should there be any material information before your ownership that you are aware of, there is an 'additional information' section at the end of the form you can utilise.

There are two sections to this form:

- Section 1: includes Parts A, B and C of the Material Information which are minimum requirements set by the National Trading Standards Estate and Letting Agency Team.
- Section 2: includes additional information that is not legally required but provides key information for the tenant and managing agent which can help to prevent future disputes during the tenancy.
